THE POT BOILS

Genealogy in Nova Scotia is alive and flourishing as never before. The Chairman, Editor, and other Committee members have been around the province this summer and autumn, and find interest considerable and enthusiasm high. Numbers of visitors have been here, including George Hancocks, editor and publisher of Canadian Genealogist, who reports that Nova Scotia has been giving him the best support from outside Ontario and Manitoba for his national magazine, to which I have been appointed Contributing Editor. Two years ago, when this Newsletter became my responsibility, it had a mailing list of 475, many of them non-paying. Today, we have over 750 subscribers, and a number of publication exchange agreements.

On 10 November, I will chair a day-long genealogical seminar at Pictou, N.S. The participants in "Beyond the Family Tree" will be unveiling a number of truly exciting concepts which, if adopted, will put this province, or parts of it, in the forefront of grass-roots genealogy in Canada. This is written on 7 October, and gives five weeks notice, but most of you will not see it in time because our production, collation and mailing takes so long. The Nova Scotia Museum will come to everyone's rescue by publishing the conference papers. We should take this opportunity to thank the Museum for the great support it has always given this Newsletter. It is in order, too, to acknowledge that under the new Provincial Archivist, that institution is adopting a more cooperative attitude vis-à-vis the family historian and the genealogical researcher. Very shortly, a publication of the 1827 census of Nova Scotia, together with some portions of the 1817 census, will be published by the Archives. It is an item you will want to purchase from them. It is the first genealogically useful publication in the Archives Bulletins for many years. Finally, attention is directed to page 263, where we announce our own Publication No. Three--N.S. Vital Statistics from Newspapers, 1823-1828, by the able and dedicated Miss Jean Holder.

FAMILY BIBLES

+ Have you a family heirloom in the form of a Bible? Once there were thousands in Nova Scotia. Do you know that almost half the old Bibles still exist? Have you one? Please share it! If your ancestor had eight children and fifty grandchildren, and lived from 1760 to 1838, how many descendants might he have today? If one of the multitude has his old Bible, think of its genealogical importance. Share it! Should the original meet with mishap, its contents will have been saved, if it has been published here. Please send a short resume of the owner's life, if possible.

+ In this issue we produce two Bibles. They are those of two families from among the "foreign Protestants". That of the 18th century belonged to a German, while that of the 19th century was owned by the descendant of a Montbeliardian./ T.M.P.

B-10. John Philip HENRICI, of Lunenburg. "Johann Phillipus Hennericii" flows the splendid signature of the youthful German settler to the indebtedness list of 1750. He came to Halifax on the "Ann" as a single youth aged about 19, and married the year after his arrival. The young couple were among the founders of Lunenburg in 1753. After a marriage of 35 years, and the birth of eleven children, Mrs. Henrici died, to be followed by her husband seven years later. Philip Henrici was a deacon in the Dutch Reformed (Presbyterian) Church at Lunenburg at the time of his death. He founded one of Lunenburg's best known and respected families, the Ritceys.

The Bible was published at Basel in 1720 by Emmanuel Thurneyson. Henrici bought it on 20 January 1778 from Martin Kaulbach for $12.00. The Bible and the entries in it are in German. There are two notations in a later hand in English. I was permitted to handle and copy the Bible in August 1978 by Mr. G. Feindel, curator of the DesBrisay Museum, Bridgewater. His wife is a descendant of Henrici. We appreciate Mr. Feindel's kindness and cooperation.

BOOK REVIEWS

Books on Nova Scotian genealogy, biography, local or social history are solicited for review in our pages.

Gordon M. Haliburton, Clansmen of Nova Scotia. Available from Petheric Press, Ltd., Box 1102, Halifax, N.S. (B3J 2X1), for $3.95. iv + 104 pp.

Here, inside one attractive little book, are biographies of twenty Scots Nova Scotians: clergymen, doctors, politicians, lawyers. You'll already know Haliburton's approach if you live in Nova Scotia, as many of these short sketches have appeared in the Halifax newspapers as an occasional feature during the year of the gathering of the clans. The introductory section links the individual to the clan and gives a wee glimpse of the clan history. This is followed by an account of the individual's career. Genealogically valuable is the practice, in most "lives", of mentioning progeny of the subject.

The book is small (5" x 7"), and is truly a pocket book. The cover is printed to resemble a pattern common to early Scottish weaving as known in Nova Scotia. An intriguing possibility is the addition of other books to this to create what would be, in effect, a series of "lives" representing the various ethnic groups which have given Nova Scotia its rich cultural diversity. Our people are our heritage.

The genealogical worth of this book is at once apparent. When you realize that it gives you a thumbnail biography of men such as Angus L. Macdonald, Sir Joseph Chisholm, George Munro, Dr. Thomas McCulloch and sixteen more, you will consider it a bargain at a price that even a Scot cannot criticize!

-----Terrence M. Punch, 1979.

Philip L. Hartling, Where Broad Atlantic Surges Roll. Available from Formac Publishing Co., Box 1688, Antigonish, N.S. (B2G 1A8), for $6.95. 234 pp.

Here is a historical and genealogical record of the easternmost part of Halifax County. It includes Beaver Harbour, Port Dufferin, Quoddy, Harrigan Cove, Moose Head, Moser River, Necum Teuch, Ecum Secum. It is an interesting region and one that has been neglected by governments and visitors alike. We are proud that it was one of this Committee who wrote this history,

The chapter headings describe the contents of this best-seller: "Upon the Barren Land", "Potatoes, Fish, and Schooners", "Religion and Education", "Gold!", "The Golden Age", "Society at the Turn of the Century", "More Churches", "Aspects of the Twentieth Century", and "Families". It is the story of a hardy and tenacious people and their fight to live in a rugged environment. What is remarkable about this part of Nova Scotia is not that the population today is but half of what it was in 1900, but that its people retain their love for their native soil even when hard economic reality forces them to live and work elsewhere.

The genealogies take up 87 pages, and form an unparalleled collection about the area. Hartling mentions the beginnings of each family, and traces the first generation or two, without attempting to trace every family to our day. Nor need he have done so, for by providing a basis on which to build, the essential framework exists. One must be struck by the large number of Lunenburg families on the eastern shore. The author himself is of such a family. The book is proof that Philip Hartling practices what he preaches. He and Allan Dunlop of P.A.N.S. give classes on how to do local history. I hope Mr. Hartling's natural modesty will not prevent him from holding up a copy of his book in a future class and saying, "Here is an example of how I think it should be done!" I'll second that. -T.M.P., 1979.

BOOK REVIEWS

Merle C. Nutt, The Nutt Family through the Years. Available from the author, 2119 West Edgemont, Phoenix, Arizona 85009, for $10.75, post-paid. xvi + 276 pp.

This is a labour of love of its author, Merle Caro Nutt, Professor Emeritus of Engineering Sciences at Arizona State University. He now serves as a consultant in metallurgy and industrial engineering in the American Southwest.

For Nova Scotians the interest in the book will be the portions dealing with the name McNutt/MacNutt. This the author does in his tenth chapter, "Wonderful McNutts and MacNutts". The family derived from the Clan MacNaughtan and, apart from a spelling resemblance, is unrelated to the English Nutt family who form the bulk of the book.

The chapter begins with two biographies of American McNutts: A.G. McNutt, governor of Mississippi, and Paul V. McNutt, who hoped to be nominated for U.S. President in 1940. We then meet John McNutt and his wife, Florence Gordon, and their sons: Alexander, William, John, Samuel.

The family in Nova Scotia begins with a William McNutt, and the branch in P.E.I. with a James McNutt. Although Professor Nutt does not actually say so, the inference is that the two were related. What is fascinating is that the name McNutt, though Scottish in its origin (from McNaught), never occurred there. The modern version originated when the family lived in Ulster, and thus is an "Irish" name for a "Scots" family. There is no attempt at name-by-name genealogy of descendants of the Nova Scotian, P.E.I., and Virginian parts of the family. What we have is an outline sketch of when and from whom the various branches originate.

The book is necessarily loose in cohesion, but it is well-bound and illustrated. At today's prices it is a bargain. -T.M.P., 1979.

Gwendolyn Vaughan Shand, Historic Hants County. Available from Petheric Press Ltd., Box 1102, Halifax, N.S. (B3J 2X1), for $6.95. viii + 168 pp.

This is not a history of Hants County. That book still awaits author and publisher. What we have is a series of essays in depth into several phases of the history of western Hants County. In the extensive introductory essay the author shows a comprehensive knowledge and a sure touch that reflect years of loving work on the history of her native area. The first topic is "Windsor, a Centre of Shipbuilding", and this contains insights afforded by the author's family traditions and anecdotes. Then we have an essay on the ferry service on the River Avon at Windsor. Probably most Nova Scotians know that the leading mineral on the western mainland of our province is gypsum. Hants County and the development of the gypsum industry in it form the topic of a chapter. The book concludes with "Windsor Industry and Trade, 1849-1979".

Now this may not strike one superficially as being grist to your genealogical mill, but it is. When the name and date of your forebear has been found, you'll want to know the answer to questions such as, "What sort of place was Windsor?" and "What did he do for a living?" Gwen Shand has provided some of the answers for you.

The quality of the printing and binding is very good, artwork is well-done, and the illustrations and maps help to tell the story of Windsor, the shire town of Hants County. If you buy Novascotiana, you can afford this book. It is full of tidbits, and Gwen Shand's love of her subject is felt throughout the volume.

Robert Kim Stevens and Cj Stevens, The Stevens Families of Nova Scotia. Available from Oracle Press, Inc., 178 Vernon Avenue, Yonkers, N.Y. 10704, for $25.00. x + 450 pp.

This is a sensible book; instead of taking their own Stevens family and discarding all the other information about others, these two authors have compiled all early families of Stephen, Stevens, and Stephens, and made a book about the entire group. You will discover English, Irish, Scottish, and German families of Stevens described in as much detail as the authors could manage. They depended largely on sources available outside of Nova Scotia, with some information supplied by the family members. The major families traced in the book lived in many counties of the province: Halifax, Colchester, Lunenburg, Yarmouth, Hants, Shelburne, Kings, Guysborough, Cumberland. Thus, anyone having an interest in Stevens, however spelled, should be wanting this book.

The authors provide a good discussion of their research methods and the types and reliability of the sources which they consulted. The Stevens do not lure people with hopes of finding noble forebears and, rightly, play down the craze for pseudo-heraldry that has every other family historian talking about his or her arms as those they really had a right to them. What I think is of note is this: though the Stevens families came from artisans and farmers, soldiers and fishermen, the family in Nova Scotia has produced some noteworthy men of real attainments. To cite but a few, there were Hon. Geoffrey Stevens, Minister of Health for Nova Scotia; Alexander Stephen, early furniture manufacturer; and David E. Stephens, contemporary author.

The book also contains ship passenger lists for Nova Scotians of the Stevens, etc. name arriving in U.S. ports. This often gives age, occupation, or other information about the arrivals. It is a great improvement on the books of one family. It always seems such a wasted effort when only one family is presented, as experienced genealogists know that a mass of good stuff collected about other families of a similar name was bypassed in the final product. Beginners working on their family hope to tie in to the published lines and become disappointed. In this book, both these gripes have been headed off. The authors give all that they have on any Stevens family in Nova Scotia before 1867. They invite you to tie your family in with the appropriate spot, and to give copies of your work to the Archives or other public record centre. You might also do as this reviewer has done, and send your additions to the authors. They have given so much, it is only proper that they be given something in return. Recommended highly. -P.M.P., 1979.

Rev. Archibald D. MacKinnon, The History of the Presbyterian Church in Cape Breton. Available from Formac Publishing Co., Box 1688, Antigonish, N.S., for $5.95. 193 pp.

This is actually the second book having that title. The first was written by Rev. John Murray in 1920, and recorded the first 150 years of the church in Cape Breton. The present book is intended as a companion volume, and completes the history up to 1975.

From a genealogical point of view, there are many clues to be found in the pages of this text. For example, we find (p. 31) that the people who settled first at North Shore, Victoria Co., were mainly from the Habrides. Such information is vital to continued research on the other side of the Atlantic. And who, not having read Murray's book, would think to look for the record of a family living between 1875 and 1891 on St. Paul's Island in the registers of the Sydney Church?

The work behind this history is hard to estimate, but a great deal of painstaking effort went into the final copy, and should be noted. This reference book will cut hours from "background" research. Let's say that there is a gap of fourteen months in the record of a church register you are going through to find your great-grandfather's death record. Previously, you had either to assume that no deaths occurred or perhaps someone had lost the record. With this book in hand, you have simply to find the name of the last minister mentioned in the record in the index, turn to the page, and find out rightaway what did happen.

The 8-page index is complete for both persons and places mentioned. At the beginning of the "Places" index, this rather unusual statement appears: "If a name cannot be found here, look on pages where nearby places are listed." This means, of course, that if one wanted to look up Aspy Bay and not finding it listed, he would look up Cape North.

The one problem I found with the book is lack of a map. I think that with a statement such as the one mentioned above, a map to show these little places would be a convenience which would add weight to this otherwise complete reference book.

-Eric Leighton, 1979.

R.L. MacKay, The Clan MacKay. Available from R.L. MacKay, 5 The Parklands, Finchfield, Wolverhampton, England, for $3.80. 39 pp.

There are still some copies left of this booklet and you will find that its pages tell you the story, in brief, of the origin, history and dispersal of the Clan MacKay. If you have the blood of the MacKays, Sutherlands, Raes, or the Scottish Murrays or Morgans in you, you will no doubt want one. Printed privately in 1978, the first thousand copies went very fast, and a second printing was indicated. For the specific purpose, a good book.

Allan E. Marble, A Catalogue of Published Genealogies of Nova Scotia Families (Publication No. Two of this Committee). Available from Box 895, Armdale, Halifax, N.S. (B3L 4K5), for $7.00. 60 pp.

A summary of the contents of this publication would not be lengthy. Of the 80 actual pages included between the covers, 24 are devoted to the Bibliography of the works covered by this catalogue, being 434 in number. The Index of the names of the principal families found in those works takes up the next 28 pages, with 1890 names appearing.

The author was realistic and accepted that there were bound to be omissions and, of course, additions in days to come. Therefore he provides a generous supply of blank pages at the back of the book to allow for your notes about new books you might come across.

The value of this index to the researcher into Nova Scotian ancestry is obvious, but there is another reason for its worth to be high in my eyes. For the thousands of people just getting into this hobby, perhaps 25% will want to publish some part of what they find. Well, without this catalogue they might go to a lot of work gathering together what someone else has already done. Since the repetition of the effort would thus accomplish no more than what the original work had done, it would be a waste of time. Perhaps now this need not happen as often. Perhaps the person could re-direct his resources and come up with new material. In this way, the catalogue serves to show not only what has been done, but also what needs to be done.

I should point out one mistake which I noticed. The Gwinn family, mentioned on page 42, comes from Victoria and not Inverness county. This is a minor detail in an otherwise very useful book.

-Eric Leighton, 1979.

CHARLES ST. CLAIR STAYNER

Mr. Stayner was one of the members of an earlier Genealogical Committee formed by the Nova Scotia Historical Society perhaps twenty years ago. That committee left no enduring memory of its work, but several of its individual members will be regular names in the footnotes of later genealogists because of the work they left behind in manuscript. None was a more persistent researcher nor a more complete compiler than Charles Stayner. He was a library commissioner for the Historical Society, a genealogist of note, and had presented some of the best papers read to the Historical Society. He died in retirement at Truro, at his daughter's home, on Thursday, 27 September 1979. He was 82 years old, and had been in poor health for some time. We who knew him in the genealogical field will certainly feel his loss. His many acquaintances will appreciate that an irreplaceable fountain of knowledge has been lost, Our sincere sympathy goes to his family.

ASSOCIATE MEMBERSHIP

If you take this Newsletter, but live too far away to attend the meetings of the Historical Society itself, you might be reluctant to join the Society. A recent amendment to the constitution of the Royal Nova Scotia Historical Society makes the following provision: "...that anyone who is a paid-up subscriber to the Genealogical Newsletter may become an Associate Member of the Society upon payment of $3.00 entrance fee, and an annual reduced dues of $2.50." That means that your cheque for $5.50 to a member of the Society (all of our Committee are members) can make you an Associate Member.

CORRECTIONS TO PRINTED WORKS

Corrections may be submitted by readers who provide us with a text of the material being corrected, together with a documented correction. EDITOR'S NOTATIONS - As you can see, the typescript ended in the middle of a page. Rather than leave an awkward blank, I thought I'd have the fun of trying to anotate a few of the M.L.B.'s from my own notes. Here are a sprinkling of tidbits concerning a number of the marriages.

- 263 is the marriage, 29 Jan. 1801, of Dr. Robert HUME, surgeon, R.N., to Augusta Sophia, eldest d/o Dr. Michael HEAD of Ireland and Halifax.
- 268 is the marriage of the future Bishop John INGLIS to Elizabeth, d/o Hon. Thomas COCHRAN, Irish-born former Speaker of the N.S. Assembly.
- 284 is the marriage, 29 Sep. 1801, of George Henry JOST and Margery, d/o Peter SMITH of England and Halifax.
- 286 is the marriage, 1 June 1802, of John Henry KEELER and Elizabeth, d/o Gershom TUFTS, Jr.
- 290 is the marriage of Thomas Andrew KINNEAR of Ireland and Halifax, to Mary Ann DENNY.
- 302 is the marriage, 24 June 1802, of John LETSON and Mary, d/o Henry AUSTEN. His brother married her cousin, in 303.
- 303 is the marriage, 30 May 1805, of Capt. Robert LETSON to Ann, d/o Thomas AUSTEN. Henry (302) and Thomas (303) were sons of Joseph Austen of Cork City, Ireland.
- 334 is the marriage of Walter Carroll MANNING to Sarah, widow of Benjamin BELCHER, and d/o David STARR.
- 341 is the marriage of Dr. Henry MAUGHAN to Sarah, d/o Andrew BAUER.
- 356 is the marriage, 20 Sep. 1800, of John T. MCOODY and Mary Reynolds, d/o Philip TIDMARSH. The couple lived afterwards at Yarmouth, N.S.
- 370 is the marriage, 31 May 1804, of Maunsell NEWTON and Harriet, d/o Philip TIDMARSH.
- 411 is the marriage of Samuel T. PRESCOTT and Ann Mary, d/o John HOSTERMAN.

BULLETIN BOARD

ONTARIO GENEALOGY SOCIETY

A brochure describing the journal of the Society is attached. This quarterly, FAMILIES, costs $12.00 per year from the Ontario Genealogical Society, Box 66, Station Q, Toronto, Ontario (M4T 2L7).

SCOTWORLD

This comprehensive service offers you a magazine, holidays, a club, mail order contacts, ancestry research, information and advice on matters Scottish. For information write to Scotworld Services Ltd., Overseas House, 100 Princess St., Edinburgh EH2 3AB, Scotland.

MACLEAN GENEALOGICAL DIRECTORY

This directory was compiled at a Clan Maclean Gathering held 21-22 July at Boisdale and Washabuckt. Postpaid copies of the Directory may be obtained at $2.00 each, from Donald F. Maclean, 5787 Ogilvie St., Halifax (B3H 1C3).

CLAN MACKAY

Dr. R.L. MacKay, The Clan MacKay, its Origin, History and Dispersal. Available for $3.00 from Author, 5, The Parklands, Finchfield, Wolverhampton, England. Includes Mackay and associated families—e.g., Morgan, Gordon, Sutherland, McHead, etc. 39 pp., soft cover.

HIGHLANDS AND WESTERN ISLES

Attention is drawn to the Society of West Highland & Island Historical Research, a non-profit body whose aim is to research that area of Scotland and present the results in attractive form. The Overseas subscription is $5.00 U.S. per yr. Subscribers get Notes & Queries and have a discount on Society publications. Address: Breacachadh Castle, Isle of Coll, Argyllshire, Scotland.

THE IRISH ANCESTOR

Also attached to this issue is the brochure describing this semi-annual Irish genealogical magazine. It is only the best of its kind in Ireland, and talks about much of the social history of our Irish forebears. It costs $9.00 per year from The Irish Ancestor, Pirton House, Sydenham Villas, Dundrum, Dublin 14, Ireland.

IRISH AT SAINT JOHN, N.B.

Unlike Nova Scotia, New Brunswick got a lot of "famine" Irish. This recent book, A Chronicle of Irish Emigration to Saint John, N.B., 1847, is a transcription of all related material from a year's run of The New Brunswick Courier. Order from New Brunswick Museum, Douglas Ave., Saint John, N.B. Price: $6.95.

IRISH FAMILY NAMES SOCIETY

This new group has three objectives: (1) To research & collect ancient family relationships based on oral tradition; (2) To compare tradition with recorded fact; (3) Reconstruct relationship charts based on modern research and tradition. Membership is $12. the first year, $6. thereafter. This entitles you to receive the semi-annual newsletter and have a discount on their publications. You can get more details and their brochure by writing The Irish Family Names Society, Box 2095, La Mesa, California 92041.

ANNOUNCING . . .

The South Shore Genealogical Society, Box 471, Bridgewater, N.S. (B4V 2X6). Membership is $5. a year. This is a new group, and it hopes to cover Lunenburg, Queens and Shelburne. Initially, members have begun to locate and copy the cemeteries in that part of Nova Scotia. It seems the local genealogical society will soon be found all over Nova Scotia.

BULLETIN BOARD

MARRIAGE NOTICES OF ONTARIO

William D. Reid has collected many marriage records of southern parts of Upper Canada from 1813 to 1854, with the bulk between 1835-1849. The 512 pp. book will be available in January for $25.00. Order from Hunterdon House, 38 Swan Street, Lambertville, N.J. 08530, and tell them where you heard of the book.

The same firm also offers, a 418 pp. book, entitled "The Loyalists in Ontario" by the same author. Price is $14.00. Mention us.

RESEARCHING YOUR ANCESTORS IN N.B.

This is the title of a new 303 pp. book written by Robert F. Fellows, of Fredericton, New Brunswick. It lists the genealogical records to be found all over that province. The book sells for $10.00, but will cost you $12.00 postpaid. Order from Historical Publications 119 Moss Street, Fredericton, N.B. Canada (E3A 2G2). Mention us.

POSTAL INVESTIGATION

As a result of a complaint filed by the Editor, the Canadian Post Office is investigating Holland House, Saint John, N.B. You are cautioned to exercise care in any transactions with that firm.

A VERY KIND OFFER

Mrs. Annabelle D. Powell, 6 Wasson Court, Saint John, N.B. (E2K 2K7), offers generously to look through her collection of 63 extensive books, etc., for references to any surname. Although she offers this as a free service, I recommend that you write her, and enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope (SASE) or send her a dollar or two to pay the postage and envelope expenses. This is a generous and kind offer, and ought not to be abused.

GENEALOGICAL SEMINAR AT PICTOU, N.S.

The Royal N.S. Historical Society, the Pictou County Genealogical Society, and the Federation of Museums, Heritage & Historical Societies of N.S. will hold a day-long seminar on genealogical topics. Speakers will include Dr. Jim Morrison (Oral Historian), Dr. Ray MacLean (Scottish in N.S.), Hugh Taylor (P.A.N.S.), Sister Margaret MacDonnell (St.F.X), under the Chairmanship of Terrence Punh (Editor), and having Dr. A.E. Marble and Allan Dunlop, both of this Committee, as participants. Date: 10 November 1979 (9 AM-5 PM) Place: McCulloch School, Pictou. Theme: New Approaches to Genealogy
PICTOU ON 10 NOVEMBER: SEMINAR

ANNOUNCEMENT . . .

During the preparation of this Newsletter, the manuscript of our serial publication number three was completed and given to yours truly. The Publication Number Three Subscription List is opened. The author is Miss Jean Holder, one of our newest committee members, an excellent and thorough researcher who has perhaps assisted some of you with your Nova Scotian research. The book will contain 160 pp., and contains 3207 entries. The title is:

NOVA SCOTIA VITAL STATISTICS FROM NEWSPAPERS, 1823-1828

and continues the work begun in Publication Number One (1813-1822). The greater size for fewer years is a good indicator that newspaper coverage of marriages and deaths was rapidly expanding. Cost: $12.00 until publication early in 1980, thereafter probably more.

Genealogical Vital Statistics, Box 895, Armdale, N.S. (B3L 4K5).

Enclosed is $12.00 for one copy of Publication Number Three, "Nova Scotia Vital Statistics from Newspapers, 1823-1828" by Jean Holder.

BULLETIN BOARDVITAL RECORDS OF CAPE SABLE

Leonard H. Smith, Jr., has now collected Catholic records for 1799-1841 for Ste. Anne (Eel Brook), St. Michel (Tusket), and St. Pierre (Pubnico). Cost is $20.75 postpaid, from Author, Box 6745, Clearwater, Florida 33518.

AN APPRECIATION

Mrs. Renee Tetreault, Welland, Ont., writes that two of our readers helped her to locate two of her mother's uncles. This was part of a larger family reunion after 60 years separation. Thanks are due to Thelma Beck of South Daytona, Fla., and Mr. D.R. Sampson of Ottawa. They were part of a large chain of people who helped to reunite sisters who had not met since 1918! Our congratulations both to this family and those who helped them.

CANADIAN GENEALOGIST

Issue two has now appeared, and already it shows the editors' intention of making its scope national, rather than Ontario. Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia are represented. The N.S. item is 12 pages long, and is an alphabetical transcription with introduction and maps of the poll tax lists for the townships in Lunenburg Co., N.S., in 1790's. You may submit material to The Canadian Genealogist, 172 King Henrys Blvd., Agincourt, Ont. (M1T 2V6). You can subscribe for $15. a year, or buy one issue for $4.00. An article on the Irish in Halifax, 1749-1830, will appear in Issue three, due soon. The Editor of this Newsletter was appointed a Contributing Editor to this national magazine.

ST. PAUL ISLAND

Carle A. Rigby, St. Paul Island- "Graveyard of the Gulf", may be bought from the Author, Hartland, N.B. (EOJ 1NO), for $2.50. This is a pamphlet of 36 pp., and tells of shipwrecks, life stations, and has a map and pictures of this island, 14 mi. off the northern tip of N.S.

MICROGEN SERVICES

Their advertisement offers a range of extensive index searches at fair prices. Included are pedigree research survey, census search, U.S. vital records search, and French-Canadian marriage indexes search. Microgen, Box 11956, Salt Lake City, Utah 84147.

BLUENOSE MAGAZINE

OFFERS a regular genealogy column. This issue carries a discussion of why genealogical work should go beyond names and dates to the people's lives. Subscription is $3.50 a year (4 issues) from Bluenose Magazine, Box 580, Port Maitland, N.S. (BOW 2V0).

THE NOVA SCOTIA HISTORICAL QUARTERLY

September issue (Vol. 9, No. 3) contains the genealogy of the Beamish family, which includes Beamish Murdoch and Thomas Beamish Akins who did so much a century ago to preserve Nova Scotia's history. The Nova Scotia family is connected to its probable place in the published Irish Beamish family tree. For copies of the N.S. H.Q., write Box 1102, Halifax, N.S. (B3J 2X1). Cost $3.00 an issue, or $10.00 a year.

FINDING BLUENOSES

Mrs. Courtney Hall of Seattle noticed in A.C. Beaman's Washington Co., R.I. Births & Marriages from Gravestones, III, p. 418: Joseph J., s/o Benjamin and Sarah REED of Granville, N.S., b. 1826, d. Charlestown, R.I., 11 Feb. 1852, bur. South Kingstown, R.I.

NEWS OF THE COMMITTEE

RENEW SUBSCRIPTIONS - Subscriptions to this Newsletter cost $3.00 for one year (4 issues). The price will go up to $5.00 a year after the new year, so if your subscription is nearly due, you should send the renewal to Mr. W.G. Murphy, 57 Primrose St., Dartmouth, N.S. (B3A 4C6). Anyone whose subscription ended 1 October 1979 will find that this is the last copy they will receive until they renew. Thanks for cooperating.

MEMBERS' INTERESTS - Mr. William Murphy turns somersaults whenever he hears the name DODGE, because he is deep in researching that family. He is helping others by compiling a list of the genealogical interests of our readers. If you want to swap information about families you are doing, send your name and address to Mr. Murphy, 57 Primrose Street, Dartmouth, N.S. (B3A 4C6).

MEMBERS' ADDRESSES - Another item in Bill's department is our address system. Please advise him of any errors or omissions in your address. Is your postal code on your mail from us? Is it complete and correct? Have you moved? Bill needs that information. Don't risk becoming a "lost lamb" whose subscription lapsed from carelessness. Thanks.

S.A.S.E. means "Self-addressed stamped envelope". Courteous people enclose onewhen asking someone's help. If you live across the border you can send an SASE, and enclose an international postal reply coupon in lieu of a stamp. Remember that U.S. and Canadian stamps are not interchangeable. Canadian postage is 17¢, U.S. 15¢.

DEADLINES DEADLINES DEADLINES DEADLINES

It takes time to compile and edit a Newsletter. Anyone having material for inclusion is reminded that deadlines are 1 December, 1 March, 1 June, 1 September. Material received too late must wait for three months. Queries and replies to queries must reach Mr. Byers at Truro at least a week before the dates shown, if he is to have reasonable time to arrange queries and get the lists in the mail to the Editor by the deadlines. Thanks for your understanding and assistance. No news may be good news, but late news is not news!

COMMITTEE PUBLICATIONS

Number One - Nova Scotia Vital Statistics from Newspapers, 1813-1822 has been reprinted in a small quantity to make it available to those who could not obtain it recently when it went out of print. Price is $11.00 postpaid.

Number Two - A Catalogue of Published Genealogies of Nova Scotia Families. This indexes over 1900 family names for which a secondary source exists. Price is $7.00 postpaid.

Numbers Three, Four, etc. - Several items are in active preparation, notably more newspaper vital statistics, 1823-1828, and 1769-1812, as well as Loyalist material and marriage records.

Order Committee publications by sending your cheque or money order to Genealogical Vital Statistics, Box 895, Armdale, N.S. (B3L 4K5).

COLLECTIONS OF THE NOVA SCOTIA HISTORICAL SOCIETY, our parent body, are available from the Public Archives of Nova Scotia, Coburg Road, Halifax, N.S. (B3H 1Z9). Address your enquiries to Dr. B.C. Cuthbertson at the Archives. There is a wealth of Nova Scotian history, biography, and related material to be found in these Collections. Number forty will appear during the 1979-80 season of the Society, its 102 year.

ADDRESS ROSTER

+ Many readers find it hard to know just where to write for what, in connection with the publications and business of the Committee. As an answer to this puzzlement, here is an up-to-date list of addresses.

To subscribe ($3.00 for one year - 4 issues), to notify changes of address, complain about unreceived Newsletters, or to obtain copies of issues 25 and up, write to Mr. William G. Murphy, 57 Primrose St., Dartmouth, N.S. (B3A 4C6). -----

To obtain back issues, note carefully the following. Eight issues are available in their original form from The Editor, Box 895, Armdale, Halifax, N.S. (B3L 4K5):

Nos. 1, 2, 3, 7, 9 @ $1.50 each Nos. 14, 19, 21 @ $2.50 each.

Also two complete sets of number one through nine have been assembled. The Editor will sell them, first come, first served, for $11.00 pp'd.

The following issues must be ordered in xerox copies from Mr. Gary Meade, RR#3, Halifax-Armdale, Box 2, Site 20, N.S. (B3L 4J3):

Nos. 4, 5 @ $1.00 each Nos. 6, 8, 10 @ $1.50 each

Nos. 11, 12, 13, 15, 16, 17, 18, 20, 22, 23, 24 @ $3.00 each.

Queries and replies to queries go to the Queries Secretary, Gerald Byers, 64 Melrose Terrace, Truro, N.S. (B2N 1W4). Queries cost $1. each, and there is a limit of five per issue. Readers are reminded that there is a deadline for queries. If your queries are late arriving or being sorted out, the delay is three months. Be sure to send them in a condition ready for publication. Query deadline for the Winter edition is 21 November 1979. Anything mailed after that date is likely to miss Number 30 (Winter 1979-80).

Committee Publications: Order from Genealogical Vital Statistics, Box 895, Armdale, Halifax, N.S. (B3L 4K5).

(1) - Nova Scotia Vital Statistics from Newspapers, 1813-1822 - available in a limited reprinted edition for $11.00.

QUERIES ???

GUIDELINES FOR SUBMISSION: Queries are $1.00 each, with a limit of five per person per issue. Queries must follow the format used in those which appear in this issue. Please note the following directions:

- 1- Ask SPECIFIC QUESTIONS - parentage, place of origin, children, dates of same, concerning cases where you have been unsuccessful with your own research.
- 2- Include as many details as possible, particularly DATES & PLACES. Queries are edited to give unity of style. Ample data assist us.
- 3- If your facts come from one source (a census or county history), say so, and save someone else the trouble of repeating your work.
- 4- Copies of answers to queries should come to the Editor. Others may be interested; future researchers will be grateful.

Query deadline for Number 30 is 20 November. Queries MUST reach Mr. Byers by then to give him time to arrange and forward them to the Editor by 1 December, the Editorial deadline. The following are some common abbreviations which will save time and space:

For reasons unknown, the bulk of the queries and replies has not been received by the Editor as of 7 October 1979. The inconvenience is regretted. However, it is preferable to have a Newsletter on schedule rather than to delay its appearance until the queries were received.

THE BROAD

Years ago, when our ancestors in eastern North America went into the woods they sometimes saw large oak trees on which was branded the mark shown on the left. It was commonly known as "The Broad Arrow". No law-abiding settler would touch a tree bearing this marking, no matter how much he coveted its wood. Such trees had been marked by the Surveyor-General of the King's Forests or his men, and were reserved for use in the construction of vessels for the Royal Navy. Sir John Wentworth of New Hampshire, a Loyalist who later was Governor of Nova Scotia, was once a Surveyor-General of the King's Forests in North America.
